

PolicyStat

Take your policies off the page and into practice.

Policies are designed to create safer and sustainable care for every patient whilst protecting the welfare of your people. Bring your policies to life with PolicyStat: cut the admin waste and frustration associated with policy creation, search and management; and ensure that you have the right policies in the right place, making the right impact on your people and patients.

Bring your policies to life

Make sure that your people have easy access to the right policies at the right time, through a single source of truth.

Take the admin waste out of policy creation and management

Simplify the creation & management of your policies. Eliminate duplicates, unearth out-of-date policies & identify gaps.

Right policies in the right place, making the right impact.

Ensure that policies are up-to-date, accessible, and acknowledged. Regularly review & comply with the demands of the regulators.

Avoid costs associated with poor policy adherence

Avoid extra costs associated to poor adherence of policies such as workforce, clinical; or administrative procedures.

Policy Management is vital to the safety of your patients and the welfare of your people. PolicyStat can help you bring your policies to life.

Polices are designed to create assurance. Policies are in place to safeguard patient care, ensure your workforce is safe and taken care of, sustainably and effectively resourced, and are here to help you handle both the day-to-day as well as the extraordinary.

Cut the admin waste and frustration associated with policy creation, search and management.

Good, up-to-date, easy-to-find and understand policies make your organisation resilient, consistent, innovative and nimble. They help empower your people and ensure everything from onboarding to systems makes a positive, safe impact on your people and care delivery. Policies protect your values from fairness to welfare and beyond.

On the other hand; out-of-date, hard-to-find policies create confusion and frustration. They are never adhered to and can endanger your patient care, staff welfare and company culture.

Start where it makes a difference to you...

HR PolicyStat

Your HR policies – Your organisation's most valuable asset is your people. Whether it's your roster policies (or lack of for certain staff groups), flexible working policies, your induction policy, your leave policy or inclusion and diversity policy, aligning those documents to the welfare of your staff and moving them off the page and into action is one of the biggest changes you can make.

Organisation PolicyStat

All of your organisation's policies – From workforce to administrative policies and clinical procedures and guidelines, ensure that all of your organisation's policies and procedures are up-to-date, easy to find and making the right impact instead of being a collection of dusty documents.

Collaborative PolicyStat

Policies across your shared or collaborative settings – Sharing and implementing effective policies across a single organisation is not an easy task. When several organisations are involved, this can quickly become seemingly impossible. PolicyStat's ability to make sure that policies originating from a single source of truth are easily available across several organisations, makes it a powerful tool to ensure that you are in a strong position to effectively align and collaborate. This aligning of policies will help to deliver high-quality services and care for patients across the collaborative.

Create assurance on your organisational goals and regulatory compliance through effective policy management.
